Celebrating & Adventuring in Washington DC. Let Freedom and Adventuring Ring!

What a fabulous time to visit Washington DC, the capital city of the United States. There are so many exciting, educational and interesting possibilities that it is hard to select our very favorites. But our Adventure Howl highlights our top choices in the, "Seven Must See Attractions" for Washington DC. These include; The White House, the Supreme Court Building, the United States Capitol, the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, the Air and Space Museum, and Arlington National Cemetery.

Don't miss our Adventure of the Moment. We celebrate and honor US veterans by exploring Memorial Day in Washington DC. There are many significant and historical monuments to visit and dozens of wonderful Memorial Day ceremonies. Take in the annual Memorial Day Parade, the Rolling Thunder Motorcycle Rally and don't miss the wreath-laying ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

If you're looking for a fabulous place to stay... check out the Hay Adams Hotel in the heart of Washington. Not only does it have one of the most prestigious addresses in DC, but this luxury oasis also has a grand political history. Don't miss it in Retreat to Relaxation.

In our Flicks for Adventure Chicks we review the thriller, Fair Game. This intriguing movie is based on the real life story of an international female spy. Yes, it's as delicious as it sounds. In the Armchair Adventurer we take a look at the incomparable life of Helen Thomas. She was a groundbreaking journalist and White House correspondent. Read what it is like to be in the inner sanctum of the most powerful place in the country in, Front Row at the White House: My Life and Times.

There is no better place to Salute! A Service Woman than in our Washington DC Edition. This month Adventure Woman salutes Annie G. Fox. Lt. Fox was the first female to be awarded the Purple Heart for her bravery in WWII. However, later her medal was stripped from her. Don't miss this riveting and historic saga of a courageous woman.

We have four fantastic new REAL Adventure Women: Vernice Armour is America's First African American Female Combat Pilot. Joan Wulff was a National Casting Champion from 1943-1960 and won the National Fisherman's Distance Casting event against an all-male field. Lynn Prebble is a petite mother of three who took up mountaineering at 35 years old and was a select member of an all-female Everest Expedition followed by the Discovery Channel, and the 15th American woman to summit Cho Oyu (26,905 feet). Eleanor "Peggy" Blevins was a trailblazing actress, aviatrix, motorcar racer, and irrepressible renegade. She challenged and changed Victorian-era notions with her independent thinking and liberated behavior.

Learn more about all four of these extraordinary women and check out our new look. We have updated our search features to make exploring your favorite REAL Adventure Women easier and more fun.

Lastly, check out our Fishing Tips and Adventures article. The American Fly Fishing Museum in Manchester, Vermont is celebrating women anglers in their upcoming exhibition, A Graceful Rise: Women in Fly Fishing Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow. The exhibition opens on June 11, 2011 and will run until April, 2012. This is the first exhibition to celebrate the contributions and achievements women have made in the sport of fly fishing.
